Feel like yourselves.

Use these tips to prepare for an engagement session with any photographer. If you book with me, I help plan the location and timing and give you natural direction during the shoot.

CHOOSE OUTFITS YOU CAN MOVE IN

Start with clothes you already feel good wearing. Coordinate a few colors without needing identical outfits. Comfortable fit and movement matter more than following a particular style.

Terracotta | Cream | Sage | Forest | Black

- [ ] Try the outfit while sitting, walking and standing together.
  Look for clothing that feels comfortable and does not need constant adjusting.

- [ ] Bring a second outfit only if your coverage allows time.
  Changing and moving between locations use session time. Agree on what fits with your photographer before the day.

- [ ] Choose walking shoes and a useful layer.
  Bring dressier shoes to change into if you want them. Match the layer to the weather, not only the photograph.

PACK A SMALL BAG

- [ ] Water, a light snack and any personal essentials.
  Follow the location rules about food, drink and bags.

- [ ] A comb, lip product, lint roller or other touch-up items you use.

- [ ] Plan ahead if you want to bring props or a pet.
  A pet may need another person to help while the two of you are photographed. Confirm the location rules first.

TELL YOUR PHOTOGRAPHER WHAT HELPS

Mention camera nerves, walking comfort, accessibility needs or photographs you would rather skip. You do not need to practice poses or act differently for the camera.

Plan a comfortable session.
