Your proposal, with a plan.

A starting point for anyone planning a surprise proposal. Use these tips to think through the day. If you book with me, I help turn your ideas into a plan.

01 START WITH THE EXPERIENCE

- [ ] Choose the feeling before the famous spot.
  A garden walk, a waterfront view or a meaningful neighborhood can all work. Think about what your partner would enjoy.

- [ ] Share your date and what you want photographed.
  Decide whether you want just the proposal or time for portraits afterward. Availability and coverage are confirmed before booking.

02 MAKE THE SURPRISE BELIEVABLE

- [ ] Keep the cover story simple.
  Use a plan that fits your relationship: a walk before dinner, an outing or a place you already wanted to visit.

- [ ] Agree on the exact entrance, stopping point and approach.
  A pin for the whole park or neighborhood is not enough. Ask about walking time, access and any photography permissions.

03 CONFIRM THE BACKUP

- [ ] Choose a weather decision time and another option.
  An indoor location needs its own permission. Do not assume a lobby, restaurant or covered terrace is available.

- [ ] Confirm the plan with your photographer.
  Agree on the time and location before the day. Keep the booking contact handy in case your plans change.

04 LEAVE ROOM TO CELEBRATE

- [ ] Allow time between photographs and the next reservation.
  Tell your photographer about dinner, friends or family plans so the timeline allows enough time.

Your proposal-day plan.

These optional notes stay in your PDF; they are not sent to me. If you book with me, we confirm your arrival details directly.

Date / date range

Agreed proposal time

Exact entrance and meeting point

Travel plan / walking time / access needs

Weather backup and decision time

Questions to discuss

Celebration time / location

BEFORE YOU LEAVE

- [ ] Keep the ring secure and easy to reach.
- [ ] Charge your phone and allow enough travel time.
- [ ] Check the agreed time and weather plan.
  Leave room to enjoy the moment without rushing to the next reservation.

Choose the coverage you want

The Proposal: $699 / 30 minutes - proposal coverage.

Proposal + Portraits: $849 / 60 minutes.
The Full Experience: $1,049 / 90 minutes.

Planning help is included. We confirm any location fees or special arrangements before booking.
Compare proposal packages and check your date